it takes two

Whether you're hitting the slopes or lounging by the fire, it's always more fun when you're with a friend. Grab your partner and stay toasty in nifty his-and-her knits.

Opposite: Heading for the great outdoors? Chase away the chill with these wonderful warmers. Her cap and scarf feature a sculptural seed-stitch brim and border partnered with simple ribbing; his gets the deep rib treatment with a chunky K3, P3 and K1, P1 combination. All are designed by Norah Gaughan in Reynolds/JCA's "Blizzard."

This page: Roomy basket-weave sweaters make an ideal couple. Hers is an easy-fitting crew neck knit in Dale of Norway's "Tlur"; the coordinating scarf is worked in a simple rib pattern in Dale of Norway's "Ara." Both are designed by Carla Scott. His pullover sports panels of alternating small and large squares. Designed by Jane Slicer-Smith, it's stitched in Lane Borgosia/Trendsetter Yarn's "Maratona."

This page: Kirsten Spurland's "sweetheart" sweaters complement one another beautifully. Hers is done in a textured rib pattern with a stockinette-stitch yoke and bold striped borders. His is worked in an all-over textured rib with a V neck and smart stripes at the cuff and lower edge. Both are knit in easy-care "Fianell" from Stahl Wolle/Skace! Collection.

Opposite: Put your heads together with these cute caps by Irina Poludnenko. Both are knit from the top down in "Merino Cable" from S. Charles Collezione/Tahki+Stacy Charles, Inc. Hers is fashioned in two-tone garter ridges; his, in a pattern of garter ridge stripes. Both feature cozy stockinette earflaps that gradually decrease down to I-cords accented with tassel or bobble trim.

Opposite: Michelle Woodford's reversible cabled scarves are the next best thing to a big hug. Both are knit in DiVé/LBUA's "Fiamma"—hers in a solid shade, his in variegated tones. Both are finished with modern extra-long fringe.

This page: Heather Lodinsky's snowflake styles take inspiration from traditional Norwegian ski sweaters. Her zip-front jacket has a drawstring waist and ribbed collar; his pullover boasts a raised collar and a zippered front placket. Both are fashioned in Coats & Clark's fleecy "Amoré."

Sandi Prosser's playful poncho works up in a jiffy in doubled strands of "Mohair Royal" from Needful Yarns, Inc. The delicate lace pattern plays peekaboo with whatever you wear under it. Handworked tassels lend a funky fling to each corner.

IT'S A WRAP

Crochet has never looked so cool. From light and lacy to furry and fabulous, these chic scarves, ponchos and stoles will have you hooked at first sight.

Left: Slip on Dawn Chen's "fur" capelet for a shot of instant glamour—without the guilt. It's worked in alternating strands of Liam Brand Yarn Co.'s "Microspun" and "Fun Mix" to mimic the pieced look of a genuine fur stole. Simple increases give it shape and help keep it on the shoulders.

Opposite, left: Mari Lynn Patrick's snowflake scarf is knit to bring a flurry of coziness. Crocheted in bulky, soft angora-blend "Pewee" from Berroco, this scarf uses a simple and easy pattern edged in pineapple stitch. Lush fringe completes the look.

Opposite, right: Norah Gough's oversized openwork scarf is a visual dazzle. Crafted in a plain perfect variegated shade of "Legend" from Artful Yarns/KCA, it's finished on both ends with a border of lovely, easy cable motifs.

With help from the step-by-step illustrations opposite, even a beginning knitter can knock out these quick cable knits without breaking a sweat. Start small with the little girl's vest, which sports a single center-front cable on a reverse-stockinette background (knt in Classic Elite Yarns' "Waterspun"), then work your way up to the slightly more complex men's and women's styles. His, stitched in GGH/ Muench Yarns' "Aspen," features two easy braids over a seed-stitch background. Hers, made in Classic Elite Yarns' "Bazic Wool," has a center cable panel flanked by wide ribs.

18

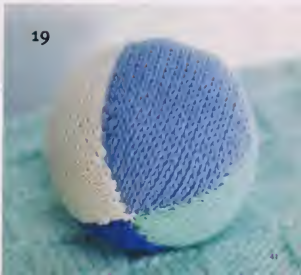

Opposite: This small-scale cardigan offers an easy introduction to Fair Isle knitting. The body is stitched in one piece in Cleckheaton "Country 8 Ply" from Plymouth Yarn. Tiny ribbing trims the sleeves and neck; stockinette-stitch hems edge the front.

Left: Take a step beyond stockinette with this quick-to-knit pullover worked in a simple yet stunning seed-stitch pattern. Lush novelty yarn, "Zanziba" from Colinette/Unique Kolours, adds to the impact.

Below: Beginners will have a ball stitching up this roly-poly toy for Baby. Only minimal amounts of yarn are needed to craft it; ours was made from remnants of Plymouth Yarn's Cleckheaton "Country 8 Ply" left over from the Fair Isle button-up shown opposite.

Blue Heaven

19

In the Pink

20

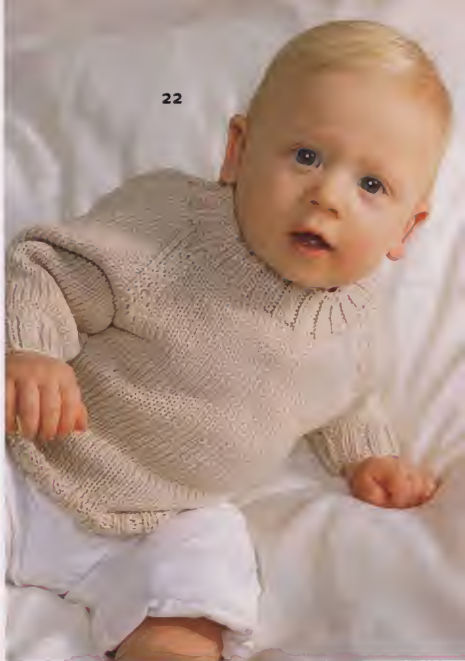

Left: Who can resist this lovely layette stitched in sweet shades of pink and white? The moss-stitch cardigan and cozy overalls are edged in backward single crochet, then with whipstitch in a contrasting color. A reversible basket-weave pattern means the blanket is equally attractive front and back. It's all knit in comfy "Colour 4 Me" by Shepherd/Classic Elite Yarns.

21

Middle: Earn your stripes with no-fuss colorwork. Knit in one piece to the yoke, the Fair Isle pullover only looks complicated. Combine it with snazzy leggings patterned in simple-to-stitch bands of bright color. Ribbed socks complete the outfit. All are designed in Cleckheaton "Country 8 Ply" from Plymouth Yarn.

Above: Start Baby out in style with a chic, simple raglan pullover. Fast and fabulous to make in comfy cotton "Grace" from Patons, it's the ideal project for a novice knitter—and a classic contribution to a budding fashionista's winter wardrobe.

Opposite: Bold bands of black and white wrap up the graphic appeal of Carla Scott's body-hugging turtleneck. An easy-care wool/acrylic blend, Lion Brand Yarn Co.'s "Kool Wool" is the pick.

This page: A touch of faux fur edging lends a luxe look to Gayle Bunn's quick-to-knit wrap coat, fashioned in beautiful "Kool Wool" and "Fun Fur," both from Lion Brand Yarn Company.

*Prices quoted are for size medium.

You don't need big bucks to look like a million. Designer details and fuzzy, furry yarns offer chic on the cheap.

Textural trim (Tahki Yarns' "Isabella") adds interest to Robin Melanson's simple pullover, knit in a beaded rib stitch in "Bunny," also from Tahki Yarns/Tahki+Stacy Charles, Inc. The figure-skimming fit is kind to the ego; the budget-conscious price is easy on the wallet.

Two terrific (and affordable) yarns give Gayle Bunn's fast-knit cardigan amazing appeal. The body is fashioned in alternating stripes of smooth "Classic Wool" from Patons and Bernat's furry "Boa"; cuffs, collar and lower edge are worked in "Boa" alone. Cropped styling cuts down on knitting time and yarn amounts.

Veronica Manno's plush bear, knit in "Yogi" from Filatura Di Crosa/ Tahki+Stacy Charles, Inc. will delight any little one—especially when said small fry can sport the "same" sweater. Child's size features a high ribbed neck; her pal's coordinating pullover is finished with a row of single crochet. All are stitched in Filatura Di Crosa/ Tahki+Stacy Charles, Inc.'s "501" or "501 Tweed." The snowflake motif on the blue crew neck at left is cut from felt and glued on.

Below: This candle-topped cupcake, complete with multicolored "sprinkles," will prompt requests for the real thing! The cake motif is fashioned in intarsia, then detailed with straight stitch and beading.

Below: Send her (and her favorite furry friend) off to class in this charmer, guaranteed to banish first-day blues. Felt letters are attached with a few dabs of fabric glue.

Above: Both the bear and her buddy will adore this short-sleeved pretty-in-pink number, accented with a duplicate-stitch heart and sewn-on tulle skirt.

in good time

What do you get when you cross a busy-as-a-bee knitter with the Ultimate Sweater Machine? A pile of pretty projects that can be completed in an hour, a day or, at most, a weekend.

6 hours

If you're the most knitters, you tirelessly work away on one or two hand-knit projects at once—and just thinking about all the gems in your stash and that new pattern you have your eye on makes you long to take on more. Help is at hand! The Ultimate Sweater Machine from Bond America allows you to polish off entire projects, quickly finish up tedious back pieces or add knitting to your crochet creations (you make the call) in as little as sixty minutes. The possibilities are endless.

33

Opposite: Working against the clock? Turn a lunch break into a respite with this sixty-minute neck warmer designed by Michelle Lo. Contrasting stripes and long fringe provide a fanciful finale. It's made in snugly Coats & Clark's "Amoré."

JUST THE FACTS

• The Ultimate Sweater Machine is not just for stockinette stitch. Get fancy with cables, colorwork, lace and more.

• No special cone yarns are needed.

Work with the odd ball or skein, including textured yarns, novelties and bouclés.

• This device handles most any gauge, from sport weight to chunky.

• You can use the machine-friendly patterns provided, or translate your own hand-knit favorites with little fuss.

• It can handle large-size garments (up to 50 inches). If you want to go bigger, extension kits are available.

• Lightweight and portable, it easily travels with you for quick stitching on the go.

Opposite: Betsy Westman's interpretation of a classic can be yours in just one day with the help of Bond technology. Start this flirty cardigan, knit in Classic Elite Yarns' wool-and-mohair "La Gran," on a Saturday morning, and by evening you'll be set to hit the town in style.

Above: Believe it—Betsy Westman's fabulously graphic throw can be turned out in a weekend! Made in three strips from Classic Elite Yarns' "La Gran" in the hottest shades of pink, orange and red, it could be the perfect last-minute gift for those hard-to-please friends on your shopping list.

Pay tribute to a faithful friend with a cozy Dalmatian throw. Worked in blocks of various sizes for easy knitting, it's the perfect piece for dog lovers (or your favorite firefighter) to cuddle under on chilly nights.

warm spots

Each section of Gitta Schrade's doggone terrific throw is knit separately in Naturally/S.R. Kertzer's "Colour Mate"; all are then stitched together to form the blanket. Face details on the Dalmatian motifs are embroidered in running stitch; the ladder edging is worked in four separate strips that are sewn to the patchwork center. Have a furry friend of another breed? Skip the spots and replace the hat, hose and ax motifs with hydrants, bones or solid squares.

Who says you can't teach an old knitter new tricks? Follow these tips for a show-quality presentation.

- Twisting yarns together as you change colors in an intarsia motif will prevent holes—and a dog-eared appearance. Making sure both yarns are on the wrong side of the work, drop the first color, then pick up the second, carrying it across the first (to cross the yarns over) before working the next stitch.
- Intarsia knitting leaves lots of loose ends. Avoid messy edges by working in these leftover threads before seaming the blocks together. With a tapestry needle or a crochet hook, weave yarn into the same color along the loops formed by the twists on the wrong side.
- Block each square to size before you assemble the finished product. Place your pieces on a large, flat, padded surface, then pin to size, using the steam from an iron to help coax stitches into shape.
